HERE'S TO YOU,
MR. BRADBURN.

Some Very Pertinent and Proper Questions Asked Mr. Bradburn
by the Enterprise.

WILL HE ANSWER?

Believing that it is due the people of this Judicial District to know some thing definite about how Mr. Bradburn received such a majority in his contest, when the official figures did not show him to have any majority at all, we will put a few questions to him and if he does not see fit to answer, the way is open for any Democratic newspaper in the district to show up the matter and they are respectfully asked to do so. For some weeks we have been trying to get some information from some source and Mr. Bradburn, his friends and his political organs have been shut up like clams. Will the answer ever come? Should we receive none we will take it that a guilty consciousness needs no excuse.

Mr. Bradburn, why was it that the election officers, the Democrat organization did not see this large amount of ballots that were found to be crossed for you in the Gas House and Kister Mill precincts?

Did any of those Democratic election officers ever complain to you that you had been robbed in the contest?
If they knew of it why did they sign the election returns?

If they did not detect these crossed ballots how did you know they were in the boxes sealed up unless some one went into them and found them there?

If some one did go in, do you know it to be a fact that they did not have a pad and stencil and that they did not mark more in your favor?

If any one did go into them who was it?

Where and from whom did you get the information that these crossed ballots were in those boxes?

Do you believe that these Democratic election officers were or could be induced to make a false return?

If you know that they did make a false return, have you ever attempted to have their names before any grand jury?

Do you know that these crossed ballots were in those boxes on the day of the election on which you base your claim of election?

When your underlings on the day of the last election were using the "web foot" and the blotters in Alien county to make sure of each vote for which they dashed out the vote, did you know that they were going to be used, and if so, did it meet your approval?

If any of the last election officers at Bowling Green were guilty of taking from you votes that were legally yours, who are they?

If you are not certain as to the parties, or do not know that any of them are guilty, then what claim have you to those ballots that were given you in open court?

If you are not certain about these ballots being put there by the voters would you have the office if it were given you?

If you do not know who was guilty of robbing you, how do you know any robbery occurred?

Here is a list of the election officers that counted the vote in the Kister Mill precinct:

KISTER'S MILL.

Charles Jenkins, D., Judge.

Sam Haines, R., Judge.

William Edwards, D., Clerk.

D. H. Bertram, R., Sheriff.

J. A. Hendricks, D., Inspector.

J. T. Doore, R., Inspector.

Did any other person see those ballots in that precinct before they were sealed and securely locked in the ballot box?

If any of these Democratic officers saw that you were being robbed, why did they sign the election returns?

If any one of them saw the wrong that you claim was transacted, which one reported the wrong to you?

On what information or grounds did you suspicion that you had been cheated out of so many votes?

Here is a list of the election officers that counted the vote in the Gas House precinct and swore to the returns:

Over The Blue Ridge

Butler County Boy Writes
About Travels Over Mountains.

THINKS OF HOME AND FRIENDS.

Fort Screen, Va., 11th Co. C. A.

July 25, 1904.

Mr. J. Clifford McCrooklin,

Little Bend, Ky.

Dear Friend and Schoolmate—

After my first trip over the Blue Ridge Mountains I will now

write to you from Georgia.

Fifty-four of Uncle Sam's boys boarded the train at 8:30 p. m. July 18, at Columbus, Ohio. As I happened I was among them. The night was cloudy and dark. So I retired soon after leaving Columbus. Some time during the night I awoke looking through my window, I saw that beneath our coach flowed a river of considerable size. The train soon arrived and climbed back into my berth. When I awoke again, it was near sunrise. After hastily dressing and folding my bed, I took a seat by a window to view the country as we rushed. We were then ascending a river bed, in the Blue Ridge Mountains in W. Va. The morning was hazy and I could not see the crest of the mountains, but found plenty of other sights by watching the R. R. as it curved with the river, several times crossing it; in most every place it seemed as though the rocks would have to be removed to give room for the train to pass.

Breakfast was served at 6:30 after which I was placed on guard, at the rear door of our coach, with orders to not to let any soldier pass at any station.

We were then going up grade, and had been since I first awoke. The train shone brightly about 7 o'clock. I could then see the rugged tops of the Mountains. Many times I would have to put my head out of the window to see the top of cliffs that seem to overhang our coach. At 8 a. m.

the ascent became so steep that an extra engine was coupled on. About use home run. This gave us brought us to a tunnel, which took between three and five minutes to run. After passing through this one engine was uncoupled, but we continued up grade until about 10 a. m.

when the top of the Mountains was reached. We then went down grade pretty much as we had come up, except much faster.

Late in the evening, the thrilling sight of overhanging cliffs, and trees seemingly grown from tops of trees, the old Mountain side swelling in dependence from the reduction of the sun's rays, all vanished from sight, leaving us in Old Virginia, (the mother of presidents,) where the most beautiful sights of the trip, were yet to be seen.

As the train rounded the curve I could look far back and see the great Mountain crests surrounded by the blue sky, sights which words cannot describe, but such as I will never forget.

Yet, after all this, when I read

Free trade looks to the moment, and never to the morrow. It does not produce interest, but lives on the principal.

It is a fact that the greatest reductions in prices of manufactured goods have been in those products in which the tariff has been the highest and the longest continued.

If the solid South were as deeply interested in granting independence to the Negro as it is in granting it to the Filipinos, there would be no solid South.

The present attitude of the Democratic party toward the Philippines recalls the fact that a few years ago they talked about Hawaii in very much the same way.

The Boston anti-imperialists may imagine that after reading the Democratic platform, the Filipinos are ready for independence, forgetting that independence may be too dearly bought.

Bryan's View of Nomination.

"I have nothing to take back, I have nothing to withdraw of the things that I have said against the methods pursued to advance his candidacy. It was a plain and deliberate attempt to deceive the party. The New York platform was vague and purposely so, because the advocates of Judge Parker were trying to secure votes from among the people who would have opposed his views had they known them. The nomination was secured, therefore, by crooked and indefensible methods."

William Jennings Bryan, "The Commoner," July 13, 1904.

J. W. DAY.

In this issue is the announcement of J. W. Day, for Assessor subject to the action of the Republican party. Mr. Day is well-known to our people, having lived among us for years. He is a jolly, good-humored man and carries an atmosphere of fun and good fellowship with him where ever he goes. He is now serving as Deputy Sheriff under Sheriff Johnson and makes a good one. He has served the county as Jailer and made a good official. He is a hustler away back when it comes to party work and makes votes for the party. If nominated he can not be defeated and will make our county a good efficient Assessor.

JNO. W. FRIZZELL.

In this issue appears the announcement of Jno. W. Frizzell as a candidate for nomination to re-election to the office of Jailer.

Mr. Frizzell is well-known to our people as a good citizen and a general gentleman. He has made one of the best jailers our county has ever had. In every party campaign he has stood loyal to the Republican nominees and always ready to respond when his services were needed, and in former years although defeated twice by a small majority he worked hard for the election of his opponents who had defeated him in the primary.

The business of the Jailer's office during his term has been unusually light and considering the great expense to which he has been put he thinks his claims to re-election are just and fair.

If nominated he would be overwhelmingly elected and our county would be assured of our Jailer being well kept for another term.

FURTHERMORE.

We intimated last issue that we would this week further discuss the question of the Republican Primary being held on the general election day. If argument were needed it is abundant that it is political wisdom to do so.

Kentucky Democrats have succeeded in the State not so much on account of their principles but on account of their peculiar astuteness to take advantage of the "forms of law," and if the Republican party is going to stand idly by and let them hog everything loose it is time to have a trustee appointed for the whole party.

Four years ago they were victorious in their attack upon Wall Street, but now Wall street dictates the policies of their party. A few years ago they repudiated Cleveland and his followers. Bryan became the peasant leader of the party, but now Bryan has been relegated to the rear and the gold democrats of the Cleveland stripe dominate the party.

The question now submitted to the American voters is: "Do we endorse the Cleveland policies, which will inevitably result in a repetition of the disastrous panic, which they produced in '94?"

Under the administration of the Republican party for the last eight years we have experienced prosperity unparalleled in history. Under existing circumstances why submit to a change that will blast our fondest hopes and smother our fairest prospects for the future? It seems a change that will blight and darken American homes. With cold facts and experience staring him in the face, can the conscientious voter cast his ballot for Parker and Davis. Certainly not and relying upon the wisdom and judgment of American people. We feel assured the Democratic party will be bitterly rebuked by overwhelming defeat at the coming November election.

What is the Constitution, as between friends?" once asked a Tammany Congressman of the late Speaker Reed. "What is the use of a declaration on money, as between Democrats?" asked the recent Democratic national convention. Surely, what is the use? The country knows that the Democratic party, as a party, is still against the gold standard.

Free trade brings the machine, protection the machinist. Given the men we can not lack the machines; having the art we shall not lack the product.

SQUARE THE DEED.

WITH THE WORD.

President Roosevelt, in his response to the notification of his nomination, well expressed the position of the Democratic party in this campaign. Their appeal for confidence is based on the ground that if triumphed they may be trusted to prove false to every principle which in the last eight years they have laid down as vital, and to leave undisturbed those very acts of the administration because of which they ask that the administration driven from power."

The Democratic candidate desires to be known as a friend of the gold standard, but until his nomination had been made, no one in the convention professed to know what were his views on the financial question.

His spokesman David B. Hill and John F. Sheehan told the Committee, on Resolution that they did not know what views Judge Parker held regarding the money standard.

The Democratic Convention pointedly refused to recant the silver heresy of the party. It refused by striking from the platform a very mild plank, and the convention refused to incorporate a plank in harmony with the views expressed in Judge Parker's telegram. There was nothing the convention did that was more deliberate than this refusal to commit the party to an acknowledgment that the gold standard is right and should remain. And yet the Democratic candidate is to ask his election on the ground that he will prove false to his party and its platform, and that he be given the place of power now held by President Roosevelt, because his election will threaten an national policy for which the present administration stands.

Judge Parker supported Mr. Bryan and his silver doctrine in two campaigns and had his vote determined the result the country would to-day have a silver standard. But now he says that he has made the protection and defense of the money standard be opposed establishing by law.

The old fable of the wolves is applicable. Judge Parker, like the wolves, would ask the sheep to discharge the dogs and rely upon the wolves for protection.

The Republican party does not adopt such reasoning. It stands by its record in which, as the President will say, "we have made the dead square with the word." If the gold standard is to be maintained it must be in the same way that it was established by an administration and a Congress that believe in the gold standard as a principle and not simply as a means of securing power. The

Rep. did not turn from their natural protectors to their natural and heredinary enemies under the plea of the wolves. The voters of this country will be as sensible as were the sheep in the fable.

We intimated last issue that we would this week further discuss the question of the Republican Primary being held on the general election day. If argument were needed it is abundant that it is political wisdom to do so.

Kentucky Democrats have succeeded in the State not so much on account of their principles but on account of their peculiar astuteness to take advantage of the "forms of law," and if the Republican party is going to stand idly by and let them hog everything loose it is time to have a trustee appointed for the whole party.

We need to study the science of

"Forms of law" and take every advantage of same that our political conscience will allow. Of course, our conscience would not allow us to hang enough democrats in a given territory to give us a Republican majority, or to hang or惩处 all democrats or where we have power to rob all democrats of their offices, but what we mean is to take advantage of all "forms of law."

"Make money honest John, if you can, but make money." It isn't every time that we have the power to take advantage of the forms of law and when the opportunity is afforded in this instance we are not wise if we do not seize it with eagerness.

Yes, have the Republican Primary on Nov. 8 by all means. We have just had in our hands an Owensboro newspaper publishing the information that the State Senatorial district primarily to nominate a democrat candidate for the State Senate will be held on Nov. 8. This district is composed of the large and Democratic counties of Davies and McLean. And so it goes all over the State.

That is what defeated Judge Guy.

Just such tricks as that, still within the law.

Well there are a great many more reasons for holding our primary on that day but we don't need any more.

We promised also to give the arguments against holding the primary on that date. After studying the mat-

The last, biggest and best barbecue of the season is to be at J. E. Snodgrass' store on the Morgantown and Brownsville road on Saturday, Aug. 27, Moonlight at night.

Prof. W. H. Basham, the enterprising principal of Morgantown Seminary, is preparing his spring catalogues and favored us with a nice order for job printing this week.

At the Union Sunday School last Sunday Miss Grace Keyndall and Mr. C. W. Neal were elected delegates to attend the State S. S. Convocation at Henderson which meets on August 24, 25 and 26.

Silvyn Harrell, one of the happy Big Bend farmers, brought us a crinately last Saturday in the shape of twin apples. Two well developed apples grown together. The first we ever saw like them.

We regret to learn that friend J. J. Johnson is very sick with typhoid fever and has been down for several days. Good friends and neighbors should see that Mr. Johnson has every attention possible.

Ridge Dockery, assisted by W. T. Johnson, have been putting a new roof on the cupole of the Court-house. It was a very high up job and some one said that Johnson was afraid the Court-house would turn over with him.

They are all going to the barbecue given by J. E. Snodgrass and others at his store on the Morgantown and Brownsville road near J. W. White's mill on Saturday, August 27, 1904.

A large crowd was registered at the Richmond Hotel last Monday night. The hotels of this town have long enjoyed the reputation of being the best on the river and the travelling public know where to get good accommodations.

A number of our citizens are having their houses piped for water this week, among whom we notice N. W. Gore, W. T. Kittinger, J. W. Moore, B. L. Duffey, A. T. Dockery, M. J. Johnson, Mrs. E. A. Baldwin, J. V. Frizzell, Dr. Posey, Main and Smith's livery stables. Nearly all the business houses along the Main street had already taken water.

We have always claimed that water works would attract other industries to our town, now we learn that parties are figuring on a steam laundry, an ice plant; and last, but not least, barber Joe Briggs and son are arranging to put in an up-to-date bath-room. We can't conceive of a more greatly needed institution in this town than a bath-house. There is too much neglect along this line for a healthful and intelligent people. Try it once a year, anyway.

A Runaway.

Last Sunday evening about sunset when Leslie Attilio Smith and Miss Zemah Whitaker were out driving behind a spirited horse, while at a point on Tyler street near the old planing mill the horse became frightened at a baby carriage and made a sudden lunge to one side running the wheel of the buggy off a culvert and throwing the occupants out. Fortunately neither party was hurt except some slight bruises. The buggy was not overturned and the horse trotted on with it to the stable. Miss Whitaker was able to go to her school as usual Monday morning. After the accident Leslie didn't do a thing but get in that buggy again and drive that horse until ten o'clock that night and he drove blue too, but Miss Zemah preferred not to go along.

A New Club Organized.

The Cistera Club in front of Howard's grocery store was organized the other day by electing J. T. Hayes, chairman, and T. J. Lee, secretary.

The object of the club is to discuss all subjects relating to the proper conduct of the Government from Washington on down to Morgantown and all other subjects. They will have daily sittings, about 12 hours each sitting. This club is not organized in any sense in opposition to the Old Reliable Corner Club at Quisenberry's corner, but rather as an aid or auxiliary to the Corner Club, which owing to the recent rash of vexatious questions of government, water works, dams, sick chickens, etc., has had more business than it could handle.

We hope to give occasional reports from the new club as well as the old reliable club where we hold our membership, and of which T. N. Harrell is chairman, and Dr. Posey, secretary.

We hope also to be able to attend some of the most important sittings of the new club during the dog days.

A Good Revival.

We have just closed a wonderful revival meeting at Little Muddy which resulted in a general spiritual uplift of the church and community.

We dropped the old church roll and began anew. The members acknowledging their faults and carelessness and taking upon themselves anew the church vows. Thirty-seven were present and came forward and gladly did this and dedicated themselves anew to God and the church. Several members could not be there Sunday who will do the same thing at their first opportunity. There will be some who will not come in. They do not love God and the church enough or they would, no doubt.

There is now dawning upon Little Muddy the bright day she has seen for years. We thank God for the good work.

Rev. J. T. Barber did some fine preaching. His sermons will live forever.

Prof. S. J. Davis, the hustling principal of the Auburn Seminary, was in town first of the week. He will get a number of pupils from our county.

Mrs. Mollie Peay, of White Plains, Mo., is visiting relatives in town. Mrs. Peay, whose maiden name was Bent, was once a school teacher in our county.

Mr. Dock Moore, in company with his sisters, Mrs. Baxter Berry, of Ballard county, and Mrs. Benfrow, of this county, made a pleasant call last Friday morning.

Mr. Richard Sharer, of Shelbyville, Tenn., is visiting his aged mother who lives with Mrs. J. W. Sharer.

Mr. Sharer went to Tennessee several years ago where he has done well, farming and working insurance.

Uncle Wesley Frizzell called Saturday and brought the editor a dollar and Aunt Sokey some of the finest fingerings that you must ever saw.

Uncle Wesley is a good old man and if we just had a world full of such men we wouldn't want to go to heaven at all.

R. B. Morehead, the contractor and builder, who has been working for the Duncan Cos. for several months, was at home Sunday. He returned to Graham to finish up some contracts after which he will be at home and may accept some large contracts here.

L. R. Armstrong, of St. Louis, supt. of this division on the T. J. Moss Tie Co., came around to visit the boys and look over the books last week. We haven't heard but we almost guarantee that he found things in better shape than he could have kept them himself.

We regret very much our carelessness in overlooking the pleasant call from Mr. A. J. Hallett and son, J. C. Hallett, who called in our office a few days ago. These excellent gentlemen have been very kind to us in the past and such calls should always be acknowledged by an editor.

We guarantee that Dr. Wood Howard, of Oklahoma, is paid further in advance on our subscription book than any other person on our list except Estill Neel. Dr. Wood called the other day and paid up to the year 1907. Estill Neel's time is paid to the year 1908 or thereabouts.

Aunt Sokey's Official Prophecy

Did you ever notice that there was a certain time for things to come around? Skyscrapers, things, and awful exciting things. The hot summer time is a powerful good time for such things. When I was a boy I mean a girl down on the farm there was a time of the year, I believe it was in August, when something awful was seen and heard in the neighborhood. It was the greatest mystery and the fulfilling of this awful prophecy in the lives and works of men.

Well now what do you call this chapter? This isn't no sermon. This is terrible prophecy. It is no wonder I am afraid in the dark. But I want some body to read and explain this all to me. I want him saved out of this perverse generation, this Sodom and Gomorrah and if the destruction comes in my time I promise I will not be a pillar of salt. I will be a billy ram to look back.

Now I see in the papers that the sea serpent has been seen in the Bay ofAlong. And they actually took a photograph of it and it will be in the papers in a few days. Also it often I was thinking it was about time for somebody to see it again. It has been a skeer people a long time. So you see things come round and round in their own time.

But there is a little in this last serpent that I wish to put forth. They say it was a gigantic monster of the old ancient lizard-like creatures that used to hop around on the hot rocks when old Adam was patterin' around on the seashore and hidin' among the big cactus trees that now make our coal—but I am devatin' what I meant to say is this: There is nothing extinct. Now this that God ever made has entirely please out. There is a great hide place down under the sea where they are all habbin' and waitin' the Master's commands. God never made things to play out and before the end of time the first will be last. In further confirming my belief only the other day a grate bird was killed in Canada which was the spokesman of the great Auk which the wise men who have essayed to figure out God's plans have said has been extinct for thousands of years.

I talk to these professors, of a higher education don't know any more about God's creation and design than anybody else. By their top-notch reasonings they are trying to destroy all the miracles of the Lord and his creation. They actually teach that the waters of the Red sea didn't open up and stand like a wall on either side while the children of Israel went through dry land. No sir, they teach that a east wind at certain times would cause the waters to recede and almost dry up so that man and the children happened to come along just at the right time, and that old Faro had the misfortune to come along when the waters released.

There is no use in getting old and feeble. It is all a notion. For instance Uncle John Viles a few weeks ago took a contract from his son-in-law, J. N. Hilton, of the Big Bend, to make 11,000 shaved shanty shingles. He has 8,000 already made and is just getting his hand in. Uncle John is 78 years old and a good one. The shingles are to cover a big stock barn which Mr. Hilton is erector.

Welcome

Weather dry, needing rain very bad, crops already badly damaged; health very bad; lots of flux.

Newt Coats and Latney Cardwell, two of Uncle Sam's boys, have just returned home after three years of service in Uncle Sam's army.

For the first time in life we drove to Brooklyn over a good road Saturday evening. The traveling public have always approached the Brooklyn road with a feeling of dread, but now that the grader has got in its work they need not hesitate to drive that way even though they chance to be a little booby.

E. Snodgrass received a large shipment of sewing machines yesterday.

If the weather continues dry and the election in November should change to go democratic, the Lord only knows what would become of us all. The weather is uncertain, but it is we think a settled fact that the other calamity will not delay us.

Democrats are counting their chickens while the eggs are still un-hatched. They credit the solid south with 151 votes and they claim Md., W. Va., Del., New York, New Jersey, and Conn., giving 76 more votes, making a total of 237, thus still lacking 12 votes to secure an election. They draw consolation by claiming that Colo., Ill., Mich., Oreg., Utah and Wisc., are "contestable states." This may all be comforting to the opposition, but it is not in the least disheartening for Republicans. Maryland, Connecticut and New Jersey are quite likely to go Republican, while there is no doubt about Oregon, Michigan, Illinois, or Wisconsin.

Piles Upon Top of Piles.

Piles upon top of piles of people have the Piles, and DeWitt's Witch Hazel Save cured them. There are many different kinds of Piles, but if you get the genuine and original Witch Hazel Salve made by F. G. DeWitt & Co., of Chicago, a cure is certain. H. A. Tisdale of Springfield, S. C., says, "I had piles 30 years and DeWitt's Salve cured me after everything else failed." Sold by W. T. Kittinger.

It is known that Mr. Cortelyou is working very quietly and industriously before he makes his plans known to the public. He has had conference with a number of business men, representing large interests and is cautiously laying the foundations for a campaign superstructure which may yet surprise the Hill-Bolton-Parker fraternity. In a few days headquarters will be opened in New York and Chicago, and the office in Washington, will be closed.

No Competition

The uniform success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy in the relief and cure of bowel complaints both in children and adults has brought it into almost universal use, so that it is practical without a rival, and as everyone who has used it knows, is without an equal. At present Mr. Hemenway is chair-

One Minute Cough Cure

For Coughs, Colds and Croup.

The Republican candidate for Governor of New York, it is now known, will be Elihu Root, probably the strongest, most popular, and the safest man for the position in the state. He is wealthy, well known, of acknowledged ability, and will have the backing of all Republicans, as well as independent voters, and those who do not feel like turning over the state to the Democracy. Mr. Root is the key to the situation, it will undoubtedly save the electoral vote of the Empire state to Theodore Roosevelt. If he does this Mr. Root will be in line for the Presidency in 1908.
