Two aviators, Clyde Jones and "Pan" Willis, were killed at Colfax, Ia., when their aircrafts went into a nose dive and fell 300 feet to the earth.

James Dillon, fifty-one years old, was killed at Harrisburg, Ill., when he stepped back into Ogara-mine No. 9 just as a blast was being made.

FIGHT FOR VOTES IS WON BY WOMEN

Thirty-Six States Have Ratified Amendment.

TENNESSEE FALLS INTO LINE

Washington Is the Thirty-Fifth Seventy Years of Struggle for Equal Suffrage—Features and Some Immortal Names.

Washington.—American women have won their fight for votes. Washington and Tennessee have ratified the constitutional amendment making 36 states out of 48.

Upon the opening March 22 of the special sessions of the legislatures of Washington and Delaware, the woman suffrage situation in the United States was briefly this:

Amendment to the Constitution passed by congress June 4, 1919, as drafted in 1875 by Susan B. Anthony: "The right of citizens of the United States to vote shall not be denied or

The American performances at Antwerp have netted them 48 points in the track and field events—17 in the hurdles, 15 in the 100-meter dash and 16 in the pentathlon, out of a possible 60 for the day's events.

Ray Chapman of the Cleveland Americans, who was hit on the head by a pitched ball by Carl Mays in a game with the New York Americans, died at New York. His skull was fractured.

Lee Siegel of Chicago cracked under the strain of his first big tournament of Toledo, O., and let the American open golf championship go back to England, with Lee Ray as the new titleholder.

Finland came to the front as winner of the only event finished at Antwerp—the javelin throw—making a clean sweep of the four-point winning places. All four Finns bettered the former world's mark set by Lemming in Sweden.

American athletes qualified in all preliminary events in the 1920 Olympic track and field events in which they engaged at Antwerp.

Connecticut and Vermont. No regular sessions until 1921. Governors had refused to call special sessions.

Florida and Tennessee. Cannot vote in 1920 because of constitutional provision requiring election to intervene before submission of amendment and action on it.

Louisiana.—Legislature to meet in January; small hope of ratification.

North Carolina.—Legislature to meet in special session in August. Gov. Thomas W. Beckett had declared his intention to ask for ratification.

Washington promptly ratified. Delaware and Louisiana refused. The governors of Connecticut, Florida and Vermont refused to call special sessions.

The United States Supreme Court upheld the Ohio ratification on the ground that no state constitution had the authority to change in any detail the method which the United States Constitution itself provides for its amendment. This decision cleared the way for the special session in Tennessee, which began August 9.

It is seventy years since the organization movement for woman suffrage began in the United States.

Amendment ratified by 34 states, beginning with Wisconsin, June 10, 1919, and ending with West Virginia March 10, 1920. Constitutionality of Ohio ratification before the United States Supreme court.

Amendment defeated by six states between September 12, 1919, and February 17, 1920, as follows, in the order named: Alabama, Georgia, Mississippi, South Carolina, Virginia, Maryland.

Connecticut and Vermont. No regular sessions until 1921. Governors had refused to call special sessions.

Florida and Tennessee. Cannot vote in 1920 because of constitutional provision requiring election to intervene before submission of amendment and action on it.

It is seventy years since the organization movement for woman suffrage began in the United States.

In 1848 Lucretia Mott and Elizabeth Cady Stanton called the first Women's Rights convention at Seneca Falls, N.

Y., which launched a "Declaration of Sentiments" and passed a resolution demanding equal suffrage.

These are two immortal names in American history. Lucretia Mott (1793-1880) was born in Nantucket, Mass., of Quaker parents. After teaching she became an "acknowledged member of the friends" who married James Mott, who worked with his wife against slaves.

Elizabeth Cady Stanton (1815-1902) was born in Johnstown, N. Y. She married in 1840 Henry B. Stanton, a journalist and anti-slavery speaker.

Lucretia Mott, lady mayor of Cork, Ireland, was deputed to England aboard a destroyer, living having been found guilty of sedition by court martial.

Four hundred persons were drowned in the recent floods on Saghalie island.

James Dillon, fifty-one years old, was killed at Harrisburg, Ill., when he stepped back into Ogara-mine No. 9 just as a blast was being made.

Arthur Patrache, former vice president of the Pere Marquette railroad, died at Detroit, Mich., after a three-month illness. He was seventy-one years of age.

Senator Warren G. Harding, Republican candidate for President of the United States, goes to the people with a clean record as a friend of the people.

Throughout his career in the Ohio State legislature, and as a United States Senator, his influence, his voice and his votes have ever been used in the service of the people.

Senator Harding has shown by his every public act that when he is elected President of the United States he will be the representative of all the people, but of any party nor of any class, nor of any group or groups of interests. He will be the farmers' president and the bankers'; he will represent the working men and the industrial heads, the rich and the poor, the mighty and the lowly.

Senator Harding, the Repub lican candidate for the Pres idency, is the same simple, plain unassuming man of the people he was when a modest Ohio publisher.

Born on a farm, he worked his way through school and college by laboring in the fields, by driv ing teams, painting barns, set ting type and teaching school.

Harding the printer became Harding the publisher, a power for right and good in his com munity.

Recognizing in Harding the type of man that makes the best representative of the people's inter ests in the legislative halls, the people of Ohio twice sent him to the state legislature, then hon ored him as Lieutenant Governor.
In 1914 they recognized his true stature and elected him to the United States Senate.

Today his party has given him the greatest honor within its power by nominating him for the Presidency, but he is still the Harding the town folks knew as a printer and editor, living his simple and beautiful family life in his modest Marion home, be loved and respected, by his neigh bors who were his boyhood friends.

Harding is a splendid type of clean American manhood, a no table example to every American born boy of the opportunities the country offers to them all.

Harding and Oppidgide should receive overwhelming support at the polls next November 2nd.

They represent all that is best in the party founded by Lincoln which since the Civil War, has ever wisely guided the destinies of the country in days of stress, when serious problems pressed for solution.

Uncle Joe Austin rays: "Will some Democrat tell why he is a democrat, and what they ever did for the country?"
So say we are all Republicans

BIOGRAPHICAL SKETCH

Nathaniel T. Howard son of J. Wesley Howard and Nancy Irene Howard was born June 27, 1860 near Dexterville in Butler County Ky. He was reared on a farm and attended the public schools in which he closely applied himself until he was 15 years of age at which time he opened his public career as a rural school teacher in New Park, Student and teacher from that date until he was ad mitted to the bar in Morgantown, Ky. in the year 1883. After that date positions of trust and honor were bestowed upon him in rapid succession. He was elected County Attorney in the year 1886 succeeding him self. Serving a second term. He was elected to the State Legislature in the year 1895. When the U. S. declared war against Spain in the year 1898 he volunteered with a Co. of his home boys served through and was mustered out with the ranks of Captain. In the year 1899 he was elected State Senator. In the year 1903 he was elected District Attorney. In the Legal Arena his rank was high as a Prosecuting Lawyer he was fearless in an un biased and free act with standing that he tempered all arguments with the laws of Justice written in the Divine Book, as a defender he was full of resources searching the Avenue his client had took seeking to find a robe of justification for the accused. When dealing with issues of Parliamentary Nature he was able to come with the best. On whatever Subject approached his opinions were an index of lucidity and logic. In Politics he was a Spanish Republican Standing face front at all times ready to do battle for his party.
As a speaker he was forceful, eloquent and logical, as a citizen he was patriotic in the fullest sense. When our Country entered the World War he gave unstintingly of his time, labor and means. Set all his energy to forward the cause to make the World Safe for Democracy he loved that freedom and flag for which his Father had fought. He was a big hearted man with a big disposition. Neighborly, tender and sympathetic, he loved the beautiful, true and good.
It was truthfully said of him "There was not a cruel fiber in his being." He was an ardent champion of educational progress, and always ready to lend a hand in the up building of his County, his last public service was at Beaver Dam, Ky. the latter part of May 1919 in behalf of Good Roads. He was a born leader and ranked as such among his fellow citizens for 60 years. He was one of the owners and was a Stock holder in the Green River Repub lican.

when it was established in the year 1855, and was a faithful sup porter and contributor to the paper till his death.
He had been a member of the Missionary Baptist Church for 50 years and loved his church and its work. Above everything in this earth, faithfulness attending all meetings, he is a member of the auxiliaries. He was married to Miss Mattie Tyler April 24 1887, they immediately established their home on Lyon Street, where they reared their family and all their joys and sorrows have been spent. While we know all things are in the hand of "Him who doeth all things well," it is a relief from a human standpoint insurpassingly sad that a man with a capacity for so much good should be called from amongst his fellow associates.

The primary cause of Capt. Howard's sickness and death was a nervous disorder of several years standing, coupled with that was a derangement of digestion. On June 13, 1919 he suffered a com plete breakdown. While he was strictly speaking never bedridden, he, in no degree, at any time, recovered his normal state of health. He had been in the Norton Infirmary since last March, where he sought to regain his health with that same dauntless courage which had kept the sails on his work of life in proper setting as he passed down the stream of time. Altho he was in a weakened condition, death came somewhat unexpectedly from bowel hemorrhage on Sunday morning August 15, 1920. The body was brought home on Monday accompanied by his son in law and daughter Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Keown. Funeral services were held Monday afternoon at the Baptist church conducted by the pastor Rev. R. B. Neel. Judge McKinzie Moss paid him high tribute in a beautiful and touching eulogy, basing his remarks on his association with Capt. Howard as a Lawyer, Statesman and citizen. A full demonstration of the esteem in which he was held by his fellow country men was evidenced by the great throng of people who crowded the church house and yard, children who loved him, young men and who had received kindly advice, old men and women whose friends he had been in days past, men bent by the weight of years who had been his fathers' comrades during the Civil war, men who had marched under the flag with he as their Captain, men who had gone "overseas" under the same flag with his son.

The burial services were conducted by the Masons with intern ment in the Morgantown Cemetery. Capt. Howard is survived by his widow and five children, Mrs. R. E. Keown, Mrs. H. W.
Jones, Misses Dorsie and Ruby Howard and Mr. Enid Howard.
Thus ends the last chapter in the life of one of Butler County's most noted men.
